4. City of Kyle and Auction Oak Report—Kate reported that the City of Kyle had provided funds to complete the Kyle Depot and the final work should be finished in about three months. The restored depot will serve as a museum and visitors

- center for Kyle. Kate is continuing to research the founding of Kyle in anticipation of the completion of this restoration project. She has found several references to the various auctions for lots in Kyle, which had been named in honor of Ferg Kyle. She is also continuing to search for information about the Auction Oak on Sledge Street in Kyle to determine whether or not it was the actual site of the auction of lots.
5. Ecology Committee Report—Luanne Cullen reported for Delbert Bassett that the oldest oak trees along FM 967 seem to be surviving TxDOT’s initial attempt to cut them down. A copy of the Free Press was shared with the article about the trees and the people’s attempts to save them. The report also included information that the effort had been renewed to complete the nomination process for getting the Burleson Oak and the Dr. Pound Oak designated as Famous Trees. Also, all trees were loving the recent rain.
  6. Historical Marker Committee Report—Betty Harrison reported that the Eddie Durham marker had arrived and would be installed by the City of San Marcos soon. The city wants to have the marker dedication during the Eddie Durham Jazz Festival in the spring. She said that the text for the FBC-NBC (First Baptist Church-National Baptist Convention) marker is still being finalized by THC. Also, the marker application period is open until November 15. She asked members to let her know by phone or email if anyone is interested in pursuing a marker. She also mentioned that she would be working with the Arcadia Publishing Company on a picture book about the history of Kyle and would like to list the Hays County Historical Commission on the title page as “co-author” (or other designation) of the book. Members were also asked to let her know of any old photos of Kyle that could be used with permission by owners.
  7. Hispanic Committee Report—Ofelia Vásquez-Philo thanked everyone from HCHC who attended the 4th anniversary ceremonies at Centro Cultural Hispano de San Marcos the previous Saturday.   8. Courthouse Committee Report—Linda Coker reported that the courthouse and museum had been busy during the last month. She thanked the HCHC members who had participated in the Passport to San Marcos on August 22 to welcome Texas State freshmen; the Ice Bucket Challenge to raise awareness and funds for ALS on September 2; and the Texas State Parents’ Weekend Wine Walk on September 12. Also, Joshua and Rebecca Hays from Waco, Texas visited the courthouse on August 22 and were pleased to see how his relative, Jack C. Hays, had been memorialized in so many ways. Linda also announced that the Texas Preservation Trust Grant Program nominations deadline was October 3; the 1884 Jail would be receiving the Heritage Association of San Marcos (HASM) Landmark Award at the October 30 banquet; the HASM cemetery walk would be held on October 18 at the San Marcos Cemetery; and the Wine and Wassail Walk would be held on November 14 at the Courthouse. Washington (a grand-nephew of President George Washington) who died in Mountain City in 1869 or 1870. The story of Samuel had been woven by letters, interviews, and artifacts from Isaac Julian of the San Marcos Free Press, W. W. Haupt of Mountain City, and Lafayette Mitchell in 1885. Bob Barton of the Hays Free Press revived the story in 1998 and reissued the challenge to provide a fitting memorial to Samuel. The Hays County Historical Commission met the challenge, and a ceremony to commemorate Samuel T. Washington would be held in the next few months at his memorial tombstone in the Kyle Cemetery.
11. Adjourn—Jerry Moore moved to adjourn the meeting; Carmen Imel seconded the motion. Motion passed, and the meeting was adjourned at 7:00 p.m. Information and tours of the Charles S. Cock House and Eli T. Merriman Cabin were provided before supper was served.
